Evaluation of AGSM curriculum

On an ongoing basis, the AGSM curriculum committee asks various constituents to evaluate the educational experience and preparation of our students. One of those constituent groups is the graduating seniors. Please provide your responses to the following questions. Your responses will be compared to those of other constituent groups.

How well has your AGSM degree prepared you in the following attributes found to be indicators of career success?

Mark the cell that best describes how prepared you feel on the individual attributes.

Attribute	Very well	Adequately	Uncertain	Inadequately	Poorly
Ability to assemble, implement and manage technical systems in the food and agriculture industries
Ability to use software tools to conduct data analysis, financial projections and data presentation

- International Experience:
